About the Course

Delivery: Face to Face or Online

Duration: 9 Months

Accreditation: Nationally Recognised Training

The Advanced Diploma of Community Sector Management reflects the role of workers who are or strive to be middle managers or managers across a range of community sector organisations.

The program is a pathway designed to broaden the skills of the student across sections of the community services sector. This may include management of a specific program or project, or broader management of a community-based organisation, education service, not-for-profit organisation, support workers or community centre.

Workers promote a person centred approach, supervise and/or coordinate a centre.

Job Outcomes

The qualification could lead students to careers in:

- Area Manager
- Centre Director
- Coordinator (large organisation)
- Community Care Manager
- Community Development Manager
- Program Area Manager
- Community Education Manager
- Project Manager
- Community Services Manager
- Volunteer Program Manager

Entry Requirements

There are no course entry requirements.

Each student is required to have appropriate LLN level requirements to undertake this training.

If students are not in a management role, they may need to have employer support to be able to complete a range of tasks within the workplace, our course has a simulated workplace, meaning the students enter a simulated workplace and undertake the role within the training facility. If they have their own workplace documentation, they can access them through their learning.
